COMMANDER | JEN HOLDEN

The Annual VetFest Celebration will be held on Veteran's Day, Nov. 11, 2023. This day-long celebration is put on by Post 149 in partnership with the Brother's of 6 Charities, Inc. and sponsored by many local businesses. The purpose of VetFest is to honor our hometown heroes. There will be a parade down Grand Ave from Maple to Ivy going up and down both sides of the street. It is followed by a ceremony, food, and entertainment at Post 149!

This is a large fundraiser for the Post and it has grown every year. Please attend one or both of the events that day.

We are looking for members to ride in the parade on the Post Float and to help out at the Post for the event.

My fellow Legionnaires, we need your and your families involvement in the Post. The Post is struggling to keep activities going and doing meals. The Post is your organization and we need to have our members be active in the events and functions. I would like to host a family day every few months at the Post, but I need help to do this. Please let me know if you would like to help. I cannot do this alone!

I want to say thank you to the many members we had at the October Post meeting. I want to encourage you all to reach out to your fellow Legionnaires to check-in on each other. We are stronger together. I truly appreciate your engagement with the Post.

FIRST VICE | PAUL MCNAMARA

Fellow Legionnaires, this is one of the best times of the year for me. It is a season full of holidays and celebrations that make me glad that I am an American. And as importantly had a chance to serve this country.

Do you ever think about what your life would have been like if you didn't sign on the dotted line all those years ago. I sometimes do, and I think how lucky I was to sign. I think of the friends that I made, the places of seen, the people we helped and probably most important the satisfaction we received in doing something that General Colin Powell called noble.

The service showed and exposed me in a very tangible way, the values of our country. Even in my youth, the coaches, teachers, scout leaders all were veterans and they imbued in me at an early age what those values were. But it is not until you serve that you really understand what they were talking about.

We often hear this phrase to the point of almost insincerity. But I still want to say thank you for your service, your sacrifice and the devotion of your family to our nation and our Legion. Good bless you all!! See you at the Post.

SECOND VICE | CLUBROOM MANAGER | STEF HOLDEN

Fellow Legionnaires, you may have noticed some of the upgrades that have taken place around the 149 in the past couple of months. We underwent a major I.T. infrastructure upgrade throughout the post which greatly improved our Wi-Fi capability as well as installed a brand-new cash register system. The Post owes a huge thank you to one of our own bartenders, Ms. Gillian Levi, as she spearheaded the operation to program the registers in order to get them up and operational. Gillian, thank you so much for all your hard work in making this happen!

Please join us on Saturday, November 11th as we honor and pay tribute to our home-town heroes. The Veterans Day Parade (VetFest) will take place on Grand Ave. from 9:30am to 11am. Some features include Sponsor Displays, Military History Displays, and patriotic Storefront decoration competition.

The Post-Parade VetFest celebration will begin at 12:30pm at the American Legion. The celebration will include Dignitary speeches, multiple food vendors as well as live entertainment.

We anticipate this will be a big day so please come out and support this huge day! See you at Club 149!

POST 149 ADJUTANT | BILL STINTSMAN

Membership, membership, membership. For most of you reading this, this probably falls on deaf ears and reads like blah, blah, blah. But often times, reminders are what some of us need.

We don't intentionally fail to pay our association dues; we just get busy and forget to do it because it isn't the top priority at that moment in time. But you paid your mortgage, rent, or car payment on time, why not your Legion dues? I know, I answered that already. Why do veteran service organizations that you joined willingly, and represent something profound or prophetic regarding something you did once upon a time in your life get pushed to the back burner? Why are veteran service organizations seeing a decline in renewals? Great questions that can't seemingly be answered with legitimate reasons. Most of what the analytics say is the reasons are essentially excuses. Veterans want benefits owed to them for their service to our country. Veterans need medical attention for problems caused by, or related to, military service. Veterans lived on the poverty level for much of the 20th century in comparison to the rest of the free nation we defended, and only recently has compensation of pay and allowances of today's active-duty contingent been adjusted to get us above the poverty line. Active-duty and veterans alike see the benefits of membership in any and all veteran service organizations because of what we say to congress. Don't let the needs and benefits owed to us, and your brothers and sisters-in-arms, slip away because you failed to renew your membership. Every member matters.

CHAPLAIN | CHUCK FAUPEL

Post Commander: Jennifer was ill for a few days which she had to be in the hospital. She's out and doing well. She was at the Post meeting performing as normal. Prayers was answered.

Harold our Service Officer: His surgery went well. He's back at home and the Post has normal business. Continue to march.

Announcement: Myself and our Post Commander will be performing the Four Chaplain Service in February, 3rd week at 11:30, on the 18th, which will be the post breakfast, come out and enjoy a great buffet and stay for the service. Put it in your calendar.

Philippians 3:20 (NASB)

If you are moving to a new home, you want to know all about the community to which you are going. And since we will spend eternity some place, we ought to know something about it. The information concerning heaven is found in the Bible. When we talk about heaven, earth grows shabby by comparison. Our sorrows and problems here seem so much less, when we have keen anticipation of the future.

In a certain sense the Christian has heaven here on earth. He has peace of soul, peace of conscience, and peace with God. In the midst of troubles and difficulties he can smile. He has a spring in his step, a joy in his soul, a smile on his face. But the Bible also promises the Christian a heaven in the life hereafter.
